

Mar 9, 2012

Dear Valued SANYO Customers

Subject: Brand change of Ni-Cd battery products with SANYO Logo.

Thank you very much for your continuing support to SANYO Nickel Cadmium batteries.
(Ni-Cd batteries)

As we announced before, Panasonic and Sanyo battery business have been integrated.
In this circumstance, SANYO Logo will be terminated at the end of March, 2012.
The Ni-Cd products which have SANYO logo will be changed to Panasonic logo.

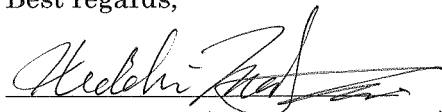

Thank you for your kind understanding and cooperation on this matter.

Note:

- The reason for change: Termination of Sanyo logo.
- Last delivery of Sanyo logo products: End of March, 2012 at ETD Japan or ETD Suzhou base.
- Products category: All Ni-Cd battery products with SANYO Logo. (Single cell, Battery Packs, etc.)
- The products with new Panasonic Logo tube or label are delivered from April 1st, 2012 at ex-factory base. (Please refer to the attached file regarding new design.)
- Current Sanyo Ni-Cd battery manufacturing operations, cell performance, and sales structures are not changed under Panasonic brand logo.
- No need to take safety standard again for current models.

If you need further information or assistance, please contact your local SANYO sales representative.

Best regards,

Hideki Matsui (General Manager)

Energy Company of Panasonic Group
Energy Company, Sanyo Electric Co., Ltd.
Lithium-Ion Battery Business Unit
Battery System Management Department
PA·BA Technical Service Group